Pediatric Feeding Therapist
Thomas Hospital with Infirmiry Health Systems
Owner of The Picky Table

Title of Presentation: Making Meal Times Happy Times

Objective: Educate parent's on identifying negative behaviors effecting meal times and introduction of new food and providing modifications.

Bio: Amber received her Master's in Occupational Therapy from South Alabama after completing a Bachelor's in ATHletic Training at Troy University. After a few years concentrating in pediatrics she began to explore the world of pediatric feeding. With a history herself of picky behaviors and increased anxiety over mealtimes it was an easy transition. Continuing education completed in complex medical feeders, transitioning from a Gtube, and typical picky eaters allows her to see a variety of pediatric patients. Within the last year she has launched a new business to reach patients outside of the Baldwin county and mobile county area. Through the business she provides telehealth services, travels for parent seminars, and provides podcasts regarding special needs resources past that of the feeding world. www.thepickytable.com
